      E                              B
Last night my dear the rain was fallin
                  A                B
I went to bed... so sad and blue
                           E    Esus
Then I had a dream of you.....
    E                              B
I dreamed I was strolling in the evening
        A                    B
Underneath the harvest moon
                         E    Esus
I was thinking about you.....
E                            B
Then we met out in the moonlight
                   A                B
The stars were shining in your eyes
                         A9
But another was there too...

E                                B
I dont believe you've met my baby
                     A               B
You looked at her you looked at me
                                      E  Esus
I wondered who you were talking to.....
  E                           B
I shook the hand of your stranger
             A               B
But I was shaking more inside
                         E    Esus
I was still wond'ring who....
       E                         B
Your arm was resting on her shoulder
                     A               B
You smiled at her she smiled at you
                                   E  Esus
Her eyes were filled with victory....
      E                              B
She said "My brother wants to marry"
                  A                    B
And then my heart was filled with ease
