Trying To Outrun The Wind

performed by Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings.

Verse 1: (Waylon)
  D
He's a sad song singer
       G
He plays a gut-stringer
        A
With vagabond fingers
                    D
That follow his mind

To far away places
     G
He reaches for traces
        A
And touches the faces
He's long left behind

Verse 2: (Waylon)
  D
He'll keep you from knowing
            G
Where he's been or going
   A
You'll see the distance
                   D
Right there in his eyes

Just short of stealing
    G
He'll take your feelings
  A
Pull at your heart strings
                  D
Until they come untied

Chorus: (Waylon & Willie)
  G                              D
Once was a woman who made him turn lonesome
        A                              D
Her memory turns over and over again
  G                        D

Like an old stallion who's longing for freedom

Verse 3: (Willie)
D
I've laughed with the sunshine
G
Cried with the rains
A
I've had some bad nights
D
With the best of the blues

I go on pretending
G
With long haired women
A
But i still get crazy
D
When i think of you

Chorus.

G D
Like an old stallion who's longing for freedom
