At The Crossing - song lyrics

Christian music from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

At The Crossing
Old Gospel Song

1. There's a river somewhere that's called Jordan,
And they say that it's deep and it's wide;
And they say that the king and the beggar
On that shore will stand side by side.

CHORUS:
At the crossing of the Jordan,
Why should I be afraid?
There'll be Someone there who loves me
To guide me 'cross the river to endless joys above.

2. Though the river is dark and stormy,
It will pass like a dream in the night;
And my soul will awake in the morning
In regions of endless delight.