          D                                                          Bm
Is there anybody here who'd like to change his clothes into a uniform,
          G                          B7                        G       Em  A7
Is there anybody here who thinks they're only serving in a raging storm.
          D                    F#m
Is there anybody here with glory in their eyes,
         D                          F#m
         loyal to the end, whose duty is to die,
           G                    A
I want to see him, I want to wish him luck,
         D                     G
I wanna shake his hand, wanna call his name,
  A                D
Pin a medal on the man.

Is there anybody here who'd like to wrap a flag around an early grave,
Is there anybody here who thinks they're standing taller on a battle wave.
Is there anybody here like to do his part,
         soldier to the world and a hero to his heart,
I want to see him, I want to wish him luck,
I wanna shake his hand, wanna call his name,
Pin a medal on the man.

          Bm           A
Is there anybody here proud of the parade,
               Bm                        G                    A
         who'd like to give a cheer and show they're not afraid.
F#7                                    Bm
I'd like like to ask him what he's trying to defend,
E                              A                A7
I'd like to ask him what he thinks he's gonna win.
          D                                                        Bbm
Is there anybody here who thinks that following orders takes away the blame
          G                          B7                        G       Em  A7
Is there anybody here who'd wouldn't mind a murder by another name
          D                    F#m
Is there anybody here whose pride is on the line,
                D                              F#m
         with the honor of the brave and the courage of the blind,
           G                    A
I want to see him, I want to wish him luck,
         D                      G
I wanna shake his hand, gonna call his name,
  A                  D
Pin a medal on the man.
Medal on the man.
