NO, 'TIS NOT TRUE.
Copyright, 1868, by O. Schirmer.

'Tis not true, when I sat by thee enthralled,
Murmuring love 'til night had passed,
Hast thy memory e'er recalled
How our hearts were beating fast,
When I sat by thee enthralled,
Murmuring love 'till night had passed?
Ah! no, 'tis not true,
Ah! no, no, 'tis not true, no, no;
Has thy memory never recalled,
How our young hearts were beating fast?

No, 'tis not true, ah! dost remember thy lips said,
While Hive I'll love but thee,
But before the sound had fled
Thy heart ceased to beat for me;
Dost remember thy lips said,
While I live I can love but thee?
Ah! no, 'tis not true, ah! no, no, 'tis not true, no, no;
But before the sound had fled
Thy heart had ceased to beat for me,
No, 'tis not true, no, 'tis not true.
